

ther, March 26. 1680. Aetat. 55.

Mr. Thomas Calvert, * Preach'd at Alhallowes on the * He hath Pavement, when he was turn'd out of the Minster. publish'd After he was wholly Silenc'd, he liv'd Privately in Mel Cæli; the City, till the Oxford Act Banish'd him, and then Medulla he withdrew to the good Lady Barnicks near Todcaster; Evangelii: and in some time return'd back again to York. He or the Prop- was a Pious Devout Man, and a Profound Preacher. phet Isai- His matter was Excellent, but he was not very Soli- ahs Cruci- citous as to Method. He Read and Study'd much; fix, being and had great Acquaintance with the Jewish Rabbies. an Expositi- He had a reach in Translating and Expounding Scrip- tion of the ture which was Peculiar. He was Bury'd in his Stu- 53d Chap- dy to the last; but sore broken in his Spirit, Body ter of his and Estate, by an Extravagant Son, a Merchant: Prophecy:
And as much comforted on the other side in his Bro- Qu. 1657. ther's Son, Mr. James Calvert, (of whom in his Place) The Blest he dy'd in March 1679. Aetat. 73. Jew of Morocco,
or the
Blackmore

ude White: wherein is a Diatribe of the Jews Sins and Miserys; with many things very observable. He also Reprinted a Book of Mr. Foxes, call'd Christus Triumphans; Comædia Apocalyptica: With a learn-d Epistle prefix'd to Schoolmasters. He also wrote a piece of Poetry agunt the Papists, &c.

Mr.