Preface.

It was once the hope and ambition of the author to publish a thorough Genealogy of the “Briggs Family,” but owing to difficulties with which every person who has essayed a similar enterprise is familiar, the compiler must confess himself “crushed.” Being used to that sort of thing, he complains not, but as a duty, deems it proper that what material has come into his hands should be given to the world, through the medium of “art preservative.” The volume has not been issued for “sordid gain.” Genealogists—both amateur and professional—have no selfish motives. The writer once entered into a compact with some friends to give a “charity ball” for the benefit of the poor of a certain town. The ball was held, and everything went off pleasantly, but when the final account was rendered, alas, the poor owed the committee $9.75. This is the genealogists experience.

As to the contents of this book, some may find portions of it very desiccated, so to speak, yet as a whole, there will be some who will find it “handy to have in the house,” and it may possibly stimulate others to investigate a little on their own responsibility.

The author’s experience and acquaintance with the family for a period of nearly forty years, leads him to say that the “Briggs’ in America,” have always been a busy family, philoprogenitiveness one of their main phrenological characteristics, and in the earlier generations, crescite et multiplicamini their motto.

Some have been honored with high places of preferment, and others have endeavored to “get there,” but have not succeeded. Not a few have graced the pulpit with their eloquence, while some have been very “naughty,” and have fallen into the clutches of stern justice,* yet we console ourselves with the reflection, that these latter but misapplied their talents.

Taunton, Wednesday Morning, Sep. 17.

* The case of Alger Chase, of Freetown, for burglary is still on trial. Evidence closed and arguments partly made.

The appearance of Elias Phillips, of Freetown, as one of the witnesses in the case has attracted some notice. Phillips is a young man about eighteen years of age,

There is comparatively but very little taste among the present generation for genealogical inquiry and research. It would seem that a desire for knowledge of one's ancestors would be more prevalent, but unfortunately there are but few who care to investigate the past. When I made my intentions known to a lady relative some years since, and stated my determination to pursue my inquiry regarding the origin of the family, she almost begged that I would abandon the project, fearing that some "skeleton" would be exhumed, which would bring discredit upon the family escutcheon.

In the course of my correspondence, I found that this latter idea obtained to some extent elsewhere. A person to whom I applied for information concerning the family, wrote in reply, that "a Rhode Islander who was anxious to know about his ancestry, ran down one line and brought up in the Narraganset Indians, but did not run out the other line, fearing that he would get into Africa."

There are also others who fear that the family record will get into wrong hands. A letter written to a party in Rhode Island elicited a prompt reply as follows: "So you belong to this race of Briggses. I cant make out who you be. Tell me who you are, where your birth place was, who your father was. My father's name was — Briggs. If you will let me know who you are I will give you all the information I can. Let me know who you are and is a great grandson of that notorious criminal, Malbone Briggs, who was in the State prison at one time with seven of his sons. For more than a hundred years this branch of the Briggs family has furnished in every generation criminals whose names may be found on the court records and the rolls of our penal institutions. The ancestry of Malbone Briggs can be traced back in a direct line to a noted pirate in the time of Earl Bellamont. Young Phillips is certainly fashioned after the stock he came from, and furnishes a good illustration of the laws of heredity. He has turned State's evidence, and, unblushingly and without any sign of repentance, testifies to the criminal acts in which he has been concerned. He possesses considerable ingenuity, for although he has the use of his left arm only, the right one being withered, he made two keys by means of which a store in Assonet was feloniously entered; and it came out in evidence that he was able to sail a boat, to shoot a gun with effect, and to do other things somewhat remarkable under the circumstances.—Standard, New Bedford, Mass., 17 Sep. 1879.

"Some forty years ago, one MALBORN BRIGGS, his sons, DANIEL, OTIS, JOHN, MARLBON, THOMAS and "DOCTOR" Briggs, were convicted at different times for various crimes, and suffered imprisonment. * * * A descendant of the family is in jail at Taunton; three brothers of the name are "doing the State some service" in Massachusetts, another is in a House of Correction, while a fifth is "wanted" by the police—Correspondent.

immediately, and I will send you my reckord." The "reckord" never came. The correspondent has probably gone where genealogy does not interest.

Promises made to genealogic enquirers are plenteous, but their fulfillment is the exception. Here is another excerpt verb. et. lit.

"I was mutched pleased to rescieve from you important information* of youre efforts in working oute the history of the Briggs Family, for I have bin for some time tryin to find oute what infermation I could of my ancesters."

"I have found a record of my Grate Grand Farther marriage, and his decendants down to my Farthers Famerly record."

"With the exceptions of some Deths and marriages whitch I will Try to find oute and cappy hese records, and send Them To you as soon as I can get Time."

"Thare is a good meny of my Grand Farthers Brother and sisters Familys live with in a few miles from me and I will drive thee and git all of the infermation that I can for you. I have a horse and team a I hope that I may be of some servise To you fore I am worry mutch interrested in sutch work."

"My father started on the work the same year That he dide, and I hope that youre labors may be a success an that I may hav the plsure of seeing a full and corect record of the Briggses."

I remane at your servis,

"P. S.—I will send a cappy of the records that I have in my possesion with all the information that I can gane in a short Time."

The hand of time has marked four long years since the above epistle inspired me with an ardent hope, but alas, the "school-master" has evidently remained "abroad," and though the correspondent evidently had good intentions some untoward circumstance has doubtless dampened his ardor, and the letter above only remains to mark the spot where the writer "remaned at my servis."

Many will, no doubt, be disappointed at the contents of this book; none, however, more so than the author. Disappointments have been his heritage, and that he should be the author of one, is not to be marvelled at. When the bible of his great grand-father was placed in his possession, and he pored over the family record therein contained, extending back years beyond the Revolutionary period, he imagined with all the fervor of youth, that the lineage might certainly be traced back quickly and positively to the days of Adam. That is where he erred, and to that error this brochure owes its existence. Persistent inquiry to attain a knowledge of his own ancestry has collated the information herein contained.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE WORK.

The material having been obtained from various sources, the arrangement could not readily be made uniform, as if the volume were a continuous genealogy. For convenience in reference, the individuals mentioned in "Town Records," and the items in other "Extracts" are, in most instances numbered consecutively.

In continuous pedigrees, where the order of generations is mentioned, the plan is the same as that generally pursued in genealogical works.

A perusal of the book will soon enable the reader to become sufficiently familiar with the plan to answer the purposes of inquiry.

It was the intention to have the "Briggs names" appear in "caps" or "small caps" in each instance, but there has been some unintentional variation from this design, not however to such an extent as to cause confusion.

A "Concordance" was contemplated when this work was first projected, but it being absolutely impossible to find the opportunity to arrange it, the subject was dropped.

The "proof" has been carefully read, the printer has performed his duty to the best of his skill, very few typographical errors being noted, and should other errors have crept in, the responsibility can only rest with those who furnished the material, as the compositor has strictly "followed copy."

Therefore, in the hope that some future genealogist may arise, who, having both purse and opportunity, will avail himself of these fragments, and construct a satisfactory history of the "Briggs Family," I place this contribution on the library shelf.

lands, fald-courses and water-mills in Ewston in Suffolk which of right were hers in fee-tail and all his sheep there for life, she being to leave the manor and full stock to (14) WILL: BRYGGE her son. His manor of Lynford which he purchased of Sir Constantine Clifton of Bokenham-Castle Knt., his great friend, he ordered his executors to sell to the Prior of St. Mary of Thetford for 8 score marks according to his agreement, out of which he assigned 40 marks to celebrate his anniversary in that monastery, every monk in priests orders attending there to have 12d. and each other to have 6d. as long as the money lasted.

THOMAS (15) the 2d son was to have the other 6 score marks but WILLIAM (14) his son, and Margaret his wife was to have the custody of him till he was of age to be a priest, or if not, till he was 24 years old.

MARGARET, (16) his daughter, was to have Illington manor to her and her heirs, and if she died without heirs, it was to be sold and disposed of to pious uses.

It appears that on his second marriage, he removed from Salle to Thetford, for he gave his house in Thetford of her inheritance, in which he dwelt, to his wife, having settled his paternal estate at Salle, on his heirs male by Eleanor his first wife, and all his second wife's inheritance on her and her issue. In 1438, he was trustee for Bokenham manor in Old Bokenham. The free-tenement or manor, in Quidenham, which had been in a family of this name a good while, came to this JOHN, (8,) and was left by him to WILLIAM (14) his son, and continued in the family till about 1500. He lies buried in the south aisle of Salle church, with his effigies in a winding sheet on a brassplate, and this under it:

*“Here lyeth John (8) Brygge under this Marbil Ston, Whos soule our Lord Jesu have mercy upon,
For in this Worlde, worthily he lived many a Day,
And here has Bodi as beried, & rowched under clay,
Lo! Frindes see, whatever ye be, pray for me, If you pray,
As ye me se, in such Degre, so schal ye be, anothir day.”*

NOTE D.—EDMUND (7) Brigges, brother to this JOHN (8) had an estate in Westmoreland settled on him, and SIMON Briggs, the fourth in a lineal descent from him married Cecily, daughter of Oliver Gilpin of Yorkshire, and BRIAN, SIMON'S son, married also in Yorkshire.

NOTE E.—Sir JOHN (9) Brigge, Chaplain, in 1438 was presented to the Rectory of St. Lawrence in Norwich, by the Abbot and Convent of Bury, in 1446 rector of Dickleburgh, in 1466 rector of Berford and was buried in the chancel there in 1481.

NOTE F.—THOMAS Briggs (11) Esq., of Salle was a great friend and doer of John Pastor Esq., by whose means he much advanced himself, by will dated 1494, he founded a chantry priest to sing for his soul for ten years after his decease at the altar by the image of the Virgin Mary in the Chapel of St. James, on the south side of St. Peter's and Paul's church in Salle, which noble fabrick was built in his time, and it appears by the arms of this Thomas, carved in stone on the south porch, south aisle, and chapel aforesaid, that they were built at his expense. He, THOMAS (11) married, 1st, Margaret dau. and co-heir of Beaupre, and 2d, Margaret ———.

The 1st and 2nd wives of THOMAS (11) are both buried before the altar in St. James' Chapel, at Salle, for there lies a stone robbed of its plate, which was found loose in a chest with this inscription “Orate pro animabus Thome. Bregge et Margarete ar Margarete Trorum eius quorum animabus propicietur deus. Amen.”

In his will he directed that he should be buried in the Church of the Friars-minors at Norwich before the high altar in the south part of the church, and he gave them 100 marks to sing daily for his own and his ancestors souls. He gave

Her first and only daughter Mary
Whose holy name in her birth
For this world hath been
And her life is full of Loves for all men
As she is with us
And she is with us

10*l.* for the Cathedral, 5*l.* for a stone to be laid over him, and the same for a stone to be laid over his mother Eleanor in St. Peters Mancroft in Norwich.

NOTE G.—THOMAS Brigg of Salle, (Holt?) by his will dated May 6, 1444, was buried in the Chapel of St. James, in the church of Salle, and was lord of this manor, Pensthorp, Wood-Dalling, Hardegrews, &c. He appoints 3 chaplains to pray there for him, and a salary to each of 8 marks per ann., names therein Margaret his wife, and JOHN his son, who married, as I find, Alianore, daughter of Thomas Beaupre of Outwell Esq., and was descended from Ralph de Poite or Brigg, who was living in the 3d of Edward I.

NOTE H.—THOMAS (11) Brigg Esq., was son of JOHN (8) and by his will dated May 21, 1494, was buried in the church of the Friars Minors at Norwich, gives to the repair of Mannington Church 10*l.*, to that of Wood-Dalling 100*s.*, and to that of Salle 10*l.*, to the priory of Bynham 100 marks to pray perpetually for him and his parents. To Margaret his wife all his utensils at Mannington and elsewhere, with his silver vessels, and 40*l.* to Thomas Lunnor and Ann his wife 53*l.*, Elizabeth Lunnor 40*l.* John Lunnor 20*l.*, Henry Lunnor 20*l.*, and to Thomas Sefoul, Esq., 30*l.*; orders his executors to provide a priest to celebrate in the chapel of St. James, in Salle, 10 years for him and his wife, and a marble stone for his tomb, one for his father in Salle, one for Alianore, his mother, in the Church of St. Peters in the mercate at Norwich, and a stone for Matilda Mounsey, in the church of Wood-Dalling; gives his capital messuage in Salle, with all his lands there, in Heydon, Refham, and Kerdeston, late his father's, to EDWARD (17) Briggs, his brother, and his heirs, on condition of paying to MARGARET his sister 40 marks and to JOAN his sister 40 marks. Margaret his wife to have Frettenham manor for life, remainder to Sir Henry Heydon, on condition of paying 400 marks, 200 to his executors, and 200 to William Lomner.

Margaret his wife was daughter and co-heir of Thomas Moiceaux of Wood-Dalling, Esq., and relict of William Lunnor of Mannington in Norfolk, Esq.

NOTE I.—EDWARD (17) Brigg, BROTHER of THOMAS (11,) married Cecilia, daughter of Edmund More of Wolterton in Norfolk, Gent., and was father of JOHN (20) Brigg, who died May 25, in the third year of Edward VI., and left by Dorothy his wife, daughter of Thomas Quapode, JAMES (25) his son and heir aged 18, who married Mary, daughter of Thomas Stotevill of Dalham in Suffolk Esq.; he died on February 10th in the 6th of Edward VI. Mary his only daughter and heir, was married to John Fountain Esq., and in her right was lord of this manor, sergeant at law, and died in 1671 and was father of Brigg Fountain Esq., of Salle, who died in 1661.

NOTE J.—“Additional MS. British Museum,” 6209, fol. 87.—Mr. HENRY (28) BRIGGS of Gresham College, prof. of Geometry, 1596–1619, wrote “Treatise on the North-West Passage” 1622. He was b. at Warley Wood, Halifax, York, 1556, d. 26 Jan. 1630. Savilian Professor at Oxford, 1619, and in 1616–7, induced Napier to make such change in his recently invented system of logarithms, which has made logarithms the most practical useful invention of that age.—Appleton's Cyclopædia.

NOTE K.—AUGUSTINE (29) Briggs, Esq., settled in Norwich: in 1626 he gave 10*l.* to the city hamper or haraper for the use of the poor, and was a benefactor to south Conisford parishes, and St. Peter's Mancroft and gave money to bind out twelve poor boys.

NOTE L.—AUGUSTINE (33) Briggs of Norwich, Esq., for whom this monument was erected was born 1617 and was educated in this city; being strenuous for his royal master in the late rebellion, he was turned out of the court of Aldermen by the rebels, but was restored again at the King's restoration and elected sheriff that very year. He was one of those gentlemen who joined the Earl of Newcastle's forces in the siege of Linn, in 1643. The late Recorder Berney showed me a long sword with a label of Briggs' own hand writing tied thereto: “This I wore at the siege of Linn in the servis of the Royal Martyr, K. Charles the first. A. Briggs.”

He was quite a prominent man in his time, Mayor of Norwich 1670 and distinguished for his munificent, and worthily bestowed public charities. (Crest—see Armorial Bearings.)

AUGUSTINE (36) Briggs his eldest son settled an estate in Norwich, on trustees, for the benefit of Southgate ward, according to his father's bequest of the 200*l.* and ALEXANDER (38) and MARY (42) Briggs, his brother and sister, settled the aforesaid 40*s.* on the reader and added 40*s.* more of their own gift.

NOTE M.—AUGUSTINE (36) was one of the Aldermen turned out by the mandate of James II. in 1687, but was restored in 1688. He was sheriff in 1658, mayor in 1695, and died in 1704.

NOTE N.—WILLIAM (37) BRIGGS an eminent Physician, son of AUGUSTINE (33) descended from an ancient family in Norfolk, was b. 1650 at Norwich. At thirteen years of age was sent to Benedict [Bennet?] College in Cambridge. Took both his degrees there. Was chosen fellow of his College 7 Nov. 1668. He subsequently took up the study of physic and travelled into France, attending lectures of famous anatomists. On his return published "Ophthalmographia," in 1676. 3 July 1677 creat. M. D. at Cambridge and subsequently made fellow of College of Phys. and Surg. at London. In 1682 his "Theory of Vision" was published. Appointed Physician to St. Thomas' Hospital by King Charles II. in 1683. In 1685 he published "Theory of Vision" in Latin, at request of Mr. Newton, [afterwards Sir Isaac,] prof. of math. at Cambridge. In 1687 a second edition of "Ophthalmographia" appeared. He was afterward appointed Physician in Ordinary to King William and continued in great esteem until his death 4 Sept. 1704, at Town-Malling, Kent.

A LETTER CONCERNING THE FAMILY ARMS WRITTEN BY DR. WILL: BRIGGS, (37) COPIED FROM BRITISH MUSEUM ADDITIONAL MS. 22,883, FOL. 62.

Sr.—Before my voyage into France, I remember I gave you the trouble of enquiring into my Father's Coat of Arms; but as I understaid since my arrival into England [by my father's letter,] the affaire is not yet determined. I know very well Sr. yt my Father has been often told by Esqr. Hunt of Sharinton in Norfolk, [who married a BRIGGS, and had the greater part of his Estate from the name,] yt there was none of the Family left, yt he knew but my Father. His lady gave the "3 owles sable," and was pleased to own the alliance between us; wch my Father never [till now] thought of ascertaining to himself. I imagine Sr. however, yt our Coat is rather the "Barrs gemels," not only because our name is exactly spelt like Sr. HUMPHRY BRIGGS in Shropshire, but also because in probability [there being no more than my Father's house of yt name left in Norfolk,] we are a branch of yt family transplanted into Norfolk.

My great Grandfather as is well known, had a very good Estate, wch afterwards was lessened by too much obliging the world; and for as much as can be found out [or at least to our knowledge as yet,] he was the bringer in of the name and Estate into Norfolk. His name was THOMAS BRIGGS, my Great-Grandmother's Amye: my Grandfather's [who was born at Banningham, near Alesham in Norfolk,] was named RICHARD. As for the "3 owles sable" [if I mistake not] they belong to the name BRIGGE, and not to our name as we spell it. It would be a great satisfaction to us yt we the children, to be assured of this affaire, and to retrieve yt right wch my Grandfather neglected unhappily [after he saw the Estate was sold.] My Father acknowledges himself Sr. infinitely oblig'd to you for the pains you have been pleas'd to take in this business; and was to wait upon you when he was here, to thank you in person. If this affaire succeeds Sr. he will make his acknowledgement appear in another manner; and amongst the rest of our Family none will think himself more engag'd to you than

Your most humble and obedient servant,

WILL: BRIGGS.

Be pleased Sr. to give your Answer to the bearer of this Letter, my Brother, who will wait upon you to take it when your more urgent occasions will permit.

"In the chapel of St. Anne at Norwich, at the upper end of the south isle, on the right hand of the entrance of the new vestry, is a mural monument of white marble, erected to the memory of AUGUSTINE (29) Briggs, Esq. descended from an ancient family at Salle in Norfolk, who before the time of Edward I, assumed the surname of De Ponte or Pontibus, i. e. at Brigge or at Brigges, as the Ancient family of the Fountains, of the same place, assumed theirs of De Fonte or Fontibus, i. e. at the fountain or fountains, much about the same time, the one dwelling I presume, by the springs or fountain head; and the other by the bridge or bridges over the currents that came from thence: the eldest branches of both which families continued in Salle till they united in one, as appears by the pedigree.

Hist. Norfolk, page 417.—Frettenham Manor * * * * By the will of JOHN (? Thomas) Briggs, Esq. dated at Salle, May 21, 1494, it appears he died seized of it and devised it to his wife Margaret for life, after to Sir Henry Heydon, on his payment of 400 marks to his executors and in the 15th of Henry VII, Edmund Paston and Margaret late wife of Thomas Briggs granted it by fine with the advowson and warranty against the heirs of Margaret, to Sir Robert Clere and Sir Robert Drury.

WILLS, DEEDS, ETC., COUNTY OF NORFOLK.

Blomefield's Hist. of Norfolk.—1739-1775.

Vol. VI. p. 5. Newton, by Castleacre, was held by——BRIGGS and abt. 1751 John Laxford possessed the same.

Vol. VII. p. 120. Pencethorpe, was in possession of THOMAS Briggs. Esq. of Salle, lord of this town and Wood-dalling by his will dated 6, May 1444, and proved 29, May following. p. 380. Westacre Priory Manor. The church now standing, has, in the lowest window of the nave on the north side several arms, among which are, “argent, 3 owls sable, beaked, etc. or.—BRIGGE.”

Vol. VIII. p. 214. Cayleys Hall or South Hall. In the 6th of Edward VI. (1552) by an inquisition taken May 31, EDWARD Briggs of Wood-Norton, Gent. was found to die seized of it on Jan. 25, last past, and by Catherine his wife, daughter of Edward Cocket, Esq., left George, his son and heir, aged 21, and George was lord in 41st Elizabeth (1599.) From Briggs it came to William Hunt, Esq., and Margaret, his widow, dau. of GEORGE Briggs, who held it in the 20th of Charles I. (1645.) Thomas Hunt, her son and heir, then became lord and sold it.

Nugoun's Manor, (from the name of its Lords Nugoun), THOMAS BRIGGS (5) and John Melman were found to hold three parts of a fee of the Lord Morley in the 3rd of Henry IV. (1403.)

Page 319. “Wood-Dalling,” * * * * * William Lumner sold this lordship, as it seems to Thomas (11) Briggs aforesaid who in his will above mentioned, orders a gravestone to be laid over Matilda Monceaux in the church of Wood-Dalling, she being, as I take it, sister of Margaret his wife, and the other dau. and co-heir of Thomas Monceaux aforesaid. * * * THOMAS BRIGGE of Salle d: lord of Hardegray's manor here in 1444, and THOMAS BRIGG, esq., d. lord in 1494 of Holwood Hall.

P. 276. Church at Salle. The south aisle and transept seem to be built by the benefaction of JOHN BRIGG, esq., who is here buried, and on the stone work of this aisle and transept may be observed the arms of Briggs “gules, three bars gemelle, or. and a canton argent.”

Here are several gravestones:

On a stone the portraiture of a man between his two wives.

“Pray for the soules of THOMAS BRIGGS and the two MARGARETS his wives.”

“Directory to the City of London, 1867.”

An examination of this huge volume, (which, by the way, is most execrably arranged, and calculated to be of no advantage to the seeker after information, unless he is provided with a certain amount of knowledge of the occupation, etc., of the party or person sought,) shows but about seventy persons of the name of BRIGGS resident in that city. Two hold government appointments, fifty-one are in commercial employment, fourteen are concerned in the legal profession, one is a baker, and a solitary pilgrim is a preacher of the gospel.

The author has in his possession a printed copy of A SERMON preach'd at the FUNERAL of CAPT. JOHN BRIGGS, at Dunstable, March 23, 1694-5.—by THOMAS HARRISON. ISAIAH LVII, 1. The Righteous perisheth, and no Man layeth it to Heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the Righteous is taken away from the evil to come.—London, Printed by J. D. for the Author. MDCXCV.

RECORDS OF THE ISLAND OF BARBADOS.

For the information here afforded, I am deeply indebted to SIR THOMAS-GRAHAM BRIGGS, Bart., a large landed proprietor, and prominent official at Barbados his birth place, and where his ancestors have resided for a long period of years, dating possibly from the earliest occupation of the island by Great Britain. Sir Graham has not been a resident of the island since May, 1876, having been sojourning in England and upon the continent. I am informed by him that the government of the island, caused all the existing parish records to be transcribed, an example worthy of imitation by some of the States of this Union, more especially those representing the “Original Thirteen.” However, owing to hurricanes, and still more to neglect, there are hardly any perfect registers in Barbados, and some exist only from a very recent period.

A brother of THOMAS BRIGGS, of Briggs in Barbados, (the grand-father of my correspondent) emigrated to America at an early age, and has descendants in some of the Eastern States, but owing to lack of necessary data, I am unable to definitely state their location or names.

I take this occasion to express my thanks for the courtesy extended by the Hon. Thomas Kerr, Administrator of the Island of Grenada, in making inquiry and effort to procure abstracts from the Registers of Barbados.

The following abstracts from the Registers were furnished by Sir Graham, from copies made for him by the Hon. Thomas Kerr, many years since, and contain all the entries relative to BRIGGS which the existing registers contain, and this I believe is their first appearance in print.

From an examination thereof, and a comparison of many of the names of BRIGGS therein contained, I am almost confirmed in my opinion, that many of the families of Briggs settled in Rhode Island, especially those of Quaker ancestry, are descended from emigrants from England, who came by the way of Barbados. It is of record that George Fox, the Quaker Missionary was accompanied in his voyage to Barbados, by one THOMAS BRIGGS, but whether he came north with Fox is not definitely known.

THE TOWN RECORDS OF SCITUATE, MASS.

With an attempt towards the tabulation of some of the descendants of WALTER BRIGGS, an early settler at that place, through the aid of said "Town Records," Deane's "History of Scituate," Barry's "History of Hanover," "Historical Collections of the Essex Institute," etc., by the author of this volume.

The first settlers of Scituate came in by way of Plymouth, and some were of the first ship's company. A large addition came in 1633, with Mr. Lathrop as their pastor. Previous to 1640 most of the population was from Hingham, Dorchester, Watertown, Weymouth, Nantucket, many were direct from London, and more, perhaps, from Dorsetshire, England.

FIRST GENERATION.

- 1 WALTER BRIGGS appears in Scituate in 1651* when he purchased a farm of Mr. (Timothy?) Hatherly, on the north side of Farm Neck. The cove within the glades still bears the name of "Briggs' Harbor." He was long an useful man in the plantation.

His will (see Plym. Col. Records,) dated 1684, mentions wife FRANCES, and the following children:

RICHARD BRIGGS was the brother of Deacon JOHN and JOSEPH, just mentioned, and was born 12th January, 1679. He settled at the place owned by Dr. Leavet Bates, deceased, and his house is supposed to have stood directly in front of the Trinitarian meeting-house. His wife was Mercy, married about 1706 or 8; and they had four sons. He died about the 1st of Jan. 1733, as his will was proved January 10, 1732-3. (A foot note to this last name has the following.) "In the centre burying-ground we find the grave stones of "RICH'D BRIGGS, and Mercy, his wife, which say that he died Oct. "1741, in his 54th year; and that she died Sept. 1749, in her 56th "year." We can find traces of only one RICH'D BRIGGS of Norton, so early, except the son of one whose will was proved in 1732-3; and he had no wife Mercy, and is known to have been alive many years subsequent to 1741. It will be noticed that on the grave stones of RICH'D and Mercy, the day of the month is not given. The date of RICHARD'S death, as given on the grave stone, corresponds exactly with that of RICHARD whose will was proved 1732-3. No doubt RICH'D and wife had been dead so long before the stones were set up that the dates of their deaths were forgotten, and thus the mistake was made.

Deacon JOHN BRIGGS, Jun'r, is supposed to have been the son of WILLIAM and Sarah (Macomber) BRIGGS, of Taunton, and was born Mar. 19, 1680. He was doubtless the same person who was sometimes called JOHN BRIGGS second, and senior. He probably lived in the easterly part of the town, and married previous to 1713, Hannah Rocket. He may have been the man who married (for his second wife?) Hannah Wetherell in 1727. His will was probated Aug. 26, 1756, and in it he mentions eight children. We presume he was the JOHN BRIGGS, second, who was deacon of the church.

SAMUEL BRIGGS lived at the place now owned by Benjamin Sweet. Of his ancestry we know nothing. He married July 27, 1692, Mary Hall, and had several children. He died about 1705 (?) and his widow married Benjamin Caswell.

HISTORY OF BLOCK ISLAND. 1514-1876.

About the beginning of the 18th century, two brothers of the name came from England to the United States, one of whom settled in Maine, and the other, JOSEPH BRIGGS settled at Kingston R. I., subsequently removing to Block Island, where he m. Margary Dodge. The records of the island speak of him leasing the blacksmith shop of the town in 1758. He raised a family of seven children upon the island, viz: NATHANIEL, JOSEPH, PATIENCE, BURTON, SAMUEL, LYDIA and EATHON.

NATHANIEL, b. abt. 1758, held the confidence and esteem of the whole community. * * The principal part of the mercantile business of the island was transacted at his store. His son COLLINS G. BRIGGS was b. on Block Island, 30 Sep. 1798, and in the "war of 1812," served his country in the U. S. Navy, subsequently entering the merchant service until he removed to Exeter, Otsego Co., N. Y., where he m. and settled in agricultural pursuits. In spring 1836, he removed to German, Chenango Co., N. Y., and cultivated the "Bowen Farm." At that place he d. 12 Nov. 1874, a. 76, leaving a sister Mrs. Mary C. Eldridge, of New York City, and three sons, and one dau. LUZERNE J. still (1877) residing at German, and MANASSEH and MUNROE A. BRIGGS, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

MANASSEH, of the firm of Briggs & Co., 90 Wall St., N. Y., is in the coal and shipping business. His former wife was Mary A. dau. of Capt. Nathaniel and Lucretia Littlefield, of Block I. She d. in Brooklyn, N. Y. Jun. 1862.

JOSEPH BRIGGS, brother of Nathaniel, settled in Exeter, N. Y., as a farmer. He d. Aug. 1841, a. 77 y., leaving 2 dau. and one son.

JEREMIAH BRIGGS. b. at Block I., 30 Dec. 1792, followed the sea, and in the "war of 1812," commanded an U. S. gunboat. After some years in the merchant service, he and his cousin Capt. NATHANIEL BRIGGS, established the "J. & N. BRIGGS TRANSPORTATION Co., between N. Y., Phila., and Balt. Subsequently they assumed the agency of the Camden and Amboy Trans. Co., known and designated as the "BRIGGS SWIFTSURE LINE," which they operated for about forty years. He (JEREMIAH) was an energetic, vigorous and benevolent man, and was prominently identified with the "Seaman's Fund and Retreat" on Staten I., and with the "Marine Society of the Port of New York." He resided on a fine farm on the Jamaica turnpike at Richmond Hill, L. I., where he d. 28 Jun. 1876, a. 84. His memory is respectfully revered at the island of his birth where his name is frequently and familiarly spoken of as "Uncle Jerry Briggs."

SAMUEL BRIGGS, a native of this island, and son of the first of that name here, spent his life at the place of his nativity. His son:

NATHANIEL BRIGGS, b. at the island 1802, became a master of a ship, and sailed several years from the port of New York. He was a partner in the firm of J. & N. BRIGGS as before stated, until the decease of JEREMIAH, since which event he has retired from active business. He has resided in Brooklyn, N. Y., for many years.

EATHON BRIGGS, son of the senior JOSEPH, b. on Block I., was lost at sea in early manhood. His son:

EATHON C. BRIGGS, b. on the island, became master of a ship, and sailed from New York several years. Afterwards he entered mercantile business in said city, and in 1849 removed with his family to Kinsman, Trumbull Co., Ohio, where he has carried on farming successfully. He and his brother Capt. NATHANIEL BRIGGS, are the only living male descendants of the original family of JOSEPH BRIGGS, the first above mentioned. None of the name for 30 years have been residents of the island.

Item. I give and bequeath to my oldest son JOHN BRIGGS, also to my son THOMAS BRIGGS, to each of them one shilling in New England money. I also give and bequeath to my daughter Susanna Northway, one shilling in money.

The principal reason of my bequeathing to my said sons and daughter one shilling, is to prevent their future claims to any part of my estate, they having long since received their portions and are gone from me.

Item. I give and bequeath unto my son JOB BRIGGS, three ewes and two weather lambs, and also two heifers, to be delivered unto him, or his lawful order, within twelve months after my decease.

DEED OF LAND FROM JOHN BRIGGS, SEN'R, to his son JOHN. Recorded in "R.I. Colonial Land Evidence," Book, I. 201-2. Dated at Portsmouth, 14 Oct. 1679.

JOHN BRIGGS, SEN'R, of Portsmouth, for love etc., to my eldest son JOHN BRIGGS, of Portsmouth, $\frac{1}{2}$ of purchaser's share of land in Dartmouth, said land adjoining to land of the Widow Fancy, at Ponagansett. Condition that his wife Hannah, if she survive him, shall enjoy the same during her life, or while she remains a widow. If she marry again, then to my grandson JOHN, second son of my son JOHN, and his heirs male; and if he die without issue, then to my son JOHN'S next younger son and so on. In case of failure of all, then to my son JOHN'S eldest son EDWARD, (all to male heirs,) and if he fail, to the nearest heir male of my body, he paying to the daughters of my son JOHN, or their heirs then living, £20, and to the others equivalent (in or as money.) or Susannah shall die without such heirs, that then the said inheritance to be enjoyed by the heirs of the survivor of them forever as aforesaid.

And further my mind and will is, that if the said Sarah and Susannah shall die without such heir or heirs of their body or bodies, as aforesaid, that then the inheritance hereby given and bequeathed to them shall descend unto the daughters of the above named Abigail Butts, to be equally divided amongst them and to the lawful heirs of their bodies forever, and for want of such heirs or issue in them, then I give and bequeath all my housing and lands in the township of Portsmouth, aforesaid with all the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, unto my brother JOB BRIGGS, and to his heirs and assigns forever.

Item. I give and bequeath unto my wife's daughter, Eliphal Brayton, one good cow.

Item. I give unto John Moon, my said wife's grandson, five shillings, in or equivalent to money to be paid to him by my executrix, in one year after my decease, being his portion in full of what I intend for him, out of my estate, both real and personal whatsoever.

EXTRACTS FROM THE WILL OF HANNAH BRIGGS, dated June 14 1734. Probated Nov. 8 1736, in Portsmouth, R. I., and recorded in Council Book No. 3, of said Portsmouth, p. 178.

Item. I give and bequeath to my daughter Abigail Butts, one bedstead and cord, a feather bed, the ticking thereof of country linen, now standing in the south chamber of the house where I now live, a boulder and two pillows, two coverlets, one made of toe the other woolen, two blankets and a pair of sheets, a suit of white linnen curtains, and valens and a head cloth, one gown of blue warp, frilled with moss colour and blue twisted together, and a striped flannel coat, my chest with drops, one silver spoon, six earthen plates, three of them commonly called stone plates, and one cow, to be by her, or her legal representative, possessed immediately after my decease.

Item. I give and bequeath to my grand-daughter, Hannah Willcox, daughter of my son Daniel, late dec'd, my white chest, which was my own before I was married.

Item. All the rest and residue of my personal estate whatsoever and wheresoever it is to be obtained, not herein or otherwise disposed of, I give and bequeath to my two daughters, namely: SARAH BRIGGS, and Susannah Cook, equally to be divided between them or the legal representative of the survivor of them.

THE FOLLOWING

FAMILY RECORDS

Have been contributed by the various parties whose names appear at the head of each record. Many of these families may be readily connected with some of the individuals mentioned in the preceding portions of this work, while others, from the meager information furnished, can not be identified with any degree of accuracy.

Those desirous of an infinite fund of amusement for a long winter's evening, (say north of the 60th parallel,) can abundantly gratify their desire by studiously endeavoring to "cipher out" the origin of some of the "septs."

From Mrs. GEORGE B. HOLMES, Providence, R. I.

The following record is a copy of one compiled by Mrs. Rebecca (Briggs) wife of Charles, son of Jonathan Holmes, of Kingston, Mass.

NOTE.—The arrangement in order of generations, and the references have been made by the compiler.

FIRST GENERATION.

- 1 CLEMENT came from England in the "Fortune" and was an early settler at Weymouth, Mass. He had son,

SECOND GENERATION.

- 2 THOMAS, b. 1633, who was among the first settlers in Taunton, and was joint owner in lands in Norton and Mansfield with
- 3 RICHARD, "who is supposed to have been." his brother.

*The following items, contributed by MARY W.
BRIGGS, of Salem, Mass.,*

Will be of interest in connection with the foregoing pedigrees, one of which pedigrees, forwarded by Mrs. Geo. B. Holmes, alludes to Clement Briggs, of Plymouth, 1621, as a possible ancestor of Rev. James Briggs, the minister at Cummington, Mass.

Facts not included, perhaps, in other accounts of CLEMENT BRIGGS, found in Plymouth Col. Records.

1637 he has land lying on the South side of "Joanes River," now Kingston, Mass., and in 1640 a commission is appointed to range the bound between his lands and those of Gov. Thos. Prince.

In 1638 CLEMENT BRIGGS, of Weymouth, feltmonger, came into court and deposed that he dwelt with Samuel Latham in Barmundsey street, Southwark, 2 and 20 years ago; that he discerned how many pelts his master pulled in a week, and that those of Robert Hicks were better and cheaper than those of his master.

My reason for doubting that CLEMENT was the father of RICHARD are these: The names of his children are given in regular succession, with ages, from 1633 to 1643, and REMOND or REMEMBER was born after that, and there is no RICHARD. Now RICHARD of Taunton must have been of reasonable age at the time of his marriage in 1662.

That he is not the same as REMOND or REMEMBER, is evident from the fact that in 1668, the year that REMEMBER applied to the court for meadow land granted his father's children in addition to former tract, in Weymouth, near Bridgewater, was the year that RICHARD was engaged in settling Norton.

RICHARD, was one of the grantees of the "North Purchase of Taunton," now Norton, Mass., 6 Jun. 1668. His house stood beside a remarkable boulder, and near the path often taken by King Philip, who lived on friendly terms with his neighbors, near his Winnicunnet cave, a friendliness doubtless due to the fact that they had bought their township, paying him £143 in honest money therefor. He m. 15 Aug. 1662, Rebekah Haskins, (or Hoskins,) of Lakenham, probably a dau. of William. Their children were, a. Deacon JOHN, was the first Town Clerk of Norton, and for several years, Tithing man and Treasurer. He was appointed Deacon, 6 Jul. 1730, and d. 29 Jun. 1750.

He m. Mary Burt, 29 May 1727. Their son SIMEON, who m. Mary Cheney, had a son, Rev. JOHN BRIGGS, b. in Norton, 17 May 1765, pastor of the Congregational Church, Tiverton, R. I., 1791-1801, and at Plympton, Mass., 6½ years. Rev. John d. 18 Sep. 1811.

e. JOSEPH, m. Mehitable Hall, He d. 1751.

Deacon RICHARD, son of RICHARD, was b. at Norton, 7 Apl. 1668. For several years after 1719, he received an annual salary of "16s. 6d. for unlocking the meeting house," Because he was a tithing man four years, we judge him to have been, "a prudent discreet person of a sober life and conversation." and we are not surprised to find that on his removing to the "North Precinct," he was elected deacon of the newly formed church.

He m. Mary Kingsbury. At his death, 1 Jan. 1733, he left sons.

GEORGE NIXON was born at South Adams, among the hills of Berkshire, Mass., on the twelfth day of April, 1796.

At the age of fourteen he became the subject of personal religious experience, and was soon after baptized and received in the Baptist Church. From this time to the day of his death he was very zealous in church work.

At seventeen he began the study of law and in 1818 was admitted to the bar. This same year he was married to Harriet Hall, only daughter of Ezra and Triphena Hall of Lanesboro.

For twelve years Mr. Briggs steadily and always successfully, pursued the path which he had chosen, gaining all the time, in greater degree, the confidence and regard of his fellow citizens. The distinctions which marked this period of his life were chiefly those he achieved for himself by his tact and his fine forensic power. In 1824 he was chosen Town Clerk of Lanesboro, and two years later received from Gov. Lincoln an appointment as Chairman of the Board of Commissioners on Highways for Berkshire County.

In the fall of 1830 his popularity found a demonstration in the voice of the people, by his election as a member to Congress, to which he was re-elected for six consecutive terms. The retired statesman was not long permitted to hide himself in the obscurity of his quiet village home. His worth in public life was too vividly realized by the people of his native State, to give him that respite from its obligations for which he really longed, when he turned his back upon Washington at the close of the twenty-seventh Congress. Soon, after the year 1844 was ushered in, GEORGE N. BRIGGS went to Boston to assume the functions with which the State of Massachusetts had invested him as Governor, which position he held for seven years.

In August 1853 he was appointed, by Gov. Clifford, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, an honor which gratified both its recipient and the public, and this office he held for five years. The end of his judicial service was the end, also, of his public life, except in those aspects of it which were purely philanthropic. At the mature age of sixty-four, and while his natural strength was not abated, and the force of his strong mind not impaired, he finished his work for the Commonwealth which had honored him for a quarter of a century, and which he had, for all that period, honored in return by unsullied patriotism, by unswerving fealty to her interests, and by ungrudging toils for her advantage.

Gov. BRIGGS died Sept. 12, 1861, from the effects of a gunshot which he had received by accident a few days before.

From EPHRAIM D. BRIGGS, Cleveland, Ohio.

FIRST GENERATION.

- 1 SAMUEL, the traditional ancestor of this branch of the numerous BRIGGS family, is supposed to have emigrated to America, from the north of England, (the family having come into England from Wales) and settled at Rochester, Mass., he, having been one of the original proprietors of the townships of Rochester and Wareham. (See "Notes from Oration," p. 122.)
He is said to have m. — Arnold, and had sons,

- 7 SAMUEL, b. 22 Feb. 1732, m. Susannah, sister of Captain Jonathan Nye, of Rochester, and had issue as below. He, (SAMUEL) was a sea-faring man, and was familiarly known as "Captain BRIGGS." He was out in the Revolution, and was Captain of a company of "minute men" to guard the coast from the incursions of the British at the time of the "Lexington affair." On this occasion, while the company was arming at his house, his son, ICHABOD, then a little boy ran in the house and told his mother that, "father is going to shoot some Regulars," and asked, "won't you cook some for dinner?"

SAMUEL served also in the campaign at Fort Edward during the war. His estate was much diminished through his liberal contributions, to the support of the women and children who were left dependent by those who had gone forth to fight for their country's freedom.

He emigrated from (New) Bedford, Mass., where he resided until 1801, to Providence, Saratoga Co., N. Y., taking with him his sons, ICHABOD and NATHANIEL. He d. at the latter place in 1821; aet. 85, his wife having dec'd in 1816, aet. 77. Children,

*Communicated by Hon. SAMUEL STERNE,

The Probate and Land Records of Newport, R. I., were taken by the British during the Revolution, and were sunk in one of their ships at Hell Gate, East River, near New York, and when recovered about one year afterwards by the town, were in very bad order.

The city, a few years since, (1877,) had copied a portion which was legible in part only. In this copy the following item is found:

JOSEPH BRIGGS and Mary ——— both of Newport were m. 1767 by Gardiner Thurston, pastor of a Baptist church at Newport.

In Probate Records of Newport is found will of JETHRO BRIGGS, dated 16 Feb. 1810, proved 5 Apr. 1824. Heirs mentioned, Mary, his wife, WILLIAM his son, and daughter CATHERINE, wife of William Bailey. Son and son-in-law executors.

The following also are mentioned in said Probate Records, subsequent to the will above: JOSEPH, MARY, CATHARINE, THANKFUL, WILLIAM and DEBORAH.

On Land Evidence Records, (1780–1808,) as grantors are found the names of NATHANIEL, EZRA, JOSEPH, WILLIAM, JETHRO and AMOS. As grantees, WILLARD and NATHANIEL.

The will of WALTER BRIGGS, of Scituate, Mass.

From the Colonial Records of Plymouth Colony.

In ye name of God, Amen, ye 16th day of January, in ye yeare of our Lord God, one thousand six hundred seventy six, I, WALTER BRIGGS, in ye jurisdiction of New Plymouth, in New England, in America, yeoman, being aged but of sound and perfect memory, (praise be giuen vnto God for ye same.) and caling unto remembrance ye vncertaine estate of this transotory life, that all flesh must yeild vnto death, when it shall please God to call, & being desirouse to settle things in order, do make, constitute, ordaine & declare this my last will or testament, in manner & form following, revokeing, & adnulling by these p'sents, all & every testament or testaments, will & wills, heretofore by me made & declared, either by word or writing, & this to be taken only for my last will & testament, & no other. And first and principally, I commend my soule vnto Almighty God my creator, assuredly beleiving I shall reseave full pardon & free remission of all my sins & be saved by ye precious blood and meritts of my blessed Savior & Redeemer, Christ Jesus, & my body to ye earth from whence it was taken, to be buried in such decent & christian manner as to my executor, hereafter named, shall be thought meet & convenient. And as touching such worldly estate as ye Lord in mercy hath lent me, my will & meaning is, ye same shall be employed & bestowed as hereafter in this, my will is expressed,

I gine & bequeath vnto my louing wife, FRANCIS BRIGGS, six pound per annum during her life, to be paid by my executor, hereafter named in corne or cattle, or any other pay, I gine and bequeath vnto my said wife two cowes, and my will is that my executor keep them for her both in ye winter & summer without any trouble to her. I give and bequeath vnto my said wife, one of ye two beds we lay on & ye furniture belonging to it, to be at her dispose when she dye. I bequeath vnto my wife during her life, ye loer roomes of ye west end of my dwelling house, & libertie of a third part of ye sellar & roome in ye chamber over ye sellar, to put any thinge as she may have occasion for, and liberty to make use of potts, kettles & other vessels commonly made use of in ye house, that she may use them as she hath ocasion, but not to dispose of them, and I will her lyberty of keeping two swine, & I will her lyberty to make use of ye two gardens, & she to have two thirds, & my executor to have one third of what she raiseth of them. I will that my executor allow my said wife a gentle horse or mare to ride to meeting or any other occasion she may haue, & that Jemy ye negar, catch it for her, also I will my said wife, Mariah ye little neger girle to Valedictory.

A retrospect of these pages leads me to imagine that the work might possibly have been improved, both in compilation and in other minor details. A second thought reminds me that I have never heard of the "Briggs" who had the ambition to undertake a similar enterprise. If I had had any conception of the magnitude of the work, I should never have begun it; but having, as it were, "tumbled" into the difficulty, I am only surprised that I should have made even this slight progress. In 1865, while in the employ of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, I commenced the labor, and have spent nearly all the leisure time afforded from my business, in correspondence, and the arrangement of these collections. During the period 1871—1880, I was engaged in divers pursuits as below; and that I have been able to accomplish this book, notwithstanding my varied employments, is a source of great satisfaction to myself, however it may strike the reader.

Secretary Masonic Temple Association,	-	-	1871—1880.
Secretary Northern Ohio Fair Association,	-	-	1873—1880.
Secretary Cleveland Club,	-	-	1873—1880.

Secretary and Treasurer Euclid Avenue Opera House,	-	-	1874—1876.
Secretary Forest City Jockey Club,	-	-	1877.
Secretary Union Club of Cleveland,	-	-	1876—1880.
Secretary "Triennial," Knights Templar,	-	-	1877.
Cashier and Accountant "Cleveland Herald,"	-	-	1877.
Secretary Webb Chapter, Royal Arch Masons,	-	-	1877—1879.
W. M. Isis Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons,	-	-	1877.
Adjutant Oriental Confraternity, K. T.,	-	-	1877.
*Candidate for "County Treasurer,"	-	-	1877.
Compiled " Descendants of Walter Briggs ,"	-	-	1877.
M. C. C. Eliadah G. L. Perfection A. A. Rite,	-	-	1874—1880.
D. Bahuin G. Council, P. J., A. A. Rite,	-	-	1875—1880.

G. O. Ohio Council of Deliberation, A. A. Rite,	-	-	1879.
Superintendent Valley Railway,	-	-	1879—1880.

FAREWELL!

* A candidacy may not be generally regarded as an "employment," but I prefer to leave that to the arbitration of those who have been in a similar position.
